

SIMON ORRELL DESIGNS

SIMON ORRELL DESIGNS

Simon Orrell is a long-established furniture designer who has created custom-made pieces for interior designers and private clients since 2001.

From a workshop in the heart of London's Chelsea Design Quarter and in the Philippines, he and his artisans create unique furniture and accessories that draw upon historic techniques and materials such as shagreen (a natural veneer used in the late 18th century to cover small decorative items) and parchment (a staple of antique bookbinding).

Simon also creates pieces in a variety of other mediums including straw marquetry, mica, eggshell veneer, gold and silver, mother of pearl, penshell and violet oyster shell.

Most recently, the company has launched the Simon Orrell Atelier diffusion range of furniture, home accessories and gifts collection, that can be ordered more readily than bespoke items, yet made with the same exacting standards as custom-made commissions. The pages that follow offer a taste of these beautiful and versatile pieces.

Straw work was used for boxes and small items of furniture in the 18th century in England and France.

The sunburst pattern was a popular motif of "The Art Deco" period and has been given a contemporary update on this lamp base.
